

Supports for Independence

Nursing Home Transition

Provides financial support, service coordination, and acts as an advocate for individuals who desire to make the transition from living in a nursing home to living on their own in the community.

Services

- One-on-one support from a qualified coordinator
- Assistance in finding housing, planning your move, and setting up your household
- Financial help with expenses, including security deposits, household items, adaptive equipment, utilities, and assistance with learning budget management
- Facilitate returning to and/or modifying an existing residence
- Referrals to home- and community-based services such as transportation, Personal Assistance Services, peer support, assistive technology, and home modifications

Eligibility

- Must be age 18 years or older, qualify financially, reside in a nursing home in Pennsylvania, and be interested in returning to the community
- If a person qualifies to receive Nursing Home Transition services, they are eligible for up to $4,000 in goods and services to set up their new home
